STATE INDEBTEDNESS.

The amount of state indebtedness will be seen from the following statement, as also the manner in which it has been funded :

Certificates of indebtedness—
School fund	$1,534,700 00	.....
Normal school fund	448,500 00	.....
University fund	101,000 00	.....
		$2,084,200 00
Bonds due July 1, 1877	$2,800 00	.....
July 1, 1878	15,000 00	.....
July 1, 1879	3,000 00	.....
July 1, 1880	13,000 00	.....
July 1, 1881	2,000 00	.....
July 1, 1882	30,000 00	.....
July 1, 1883	26,000 00	.....
July 1, 1884	9,000 00	.....
July 1, 1885	18,000 00	.....
July 1, 1886	8,000 00	.....
July 1, 1887	22,000 00	.....
July 1, 1888	19,000 00	.....
		167,800 00
Currency certificates outstanding		57 00
Total indebtedness		$2,252,057 00

This statement shows a reduction of indebtedness, as compared with last year of $27,000. This has been effected under the provisions of chapter 144, general laws of 1868, by withdrawing from the bank comptroller that amount of state bonds, deposited to secure the circulating notes of certain banks, which bonds have been canceled, and a certificate of indebtedness issued to the bank comptroller in lieu thereof. On this certificate has been paid the sum of $3,076.00, leaving due the sum of $23,924. This sum has not been included in the indebtedness as stated above, for the reason that it is not probable that circulating notes of any considerable amount will be presented for redemption, and the state will have the benefit of the lost circulation.

As will be seen, the form of the indebtedness has been somewhat changed. Bonds to the amount of $233,800 have been taken up and canceled, of which amount $206,800 were purchased with the trust funds, and certificates of indebtedness issued for the same amount. The bonds now outstanding amount to the sum of $167,800.00 which are mostly held by insurance companies, and will probably all be purchased with the trust funds and canceled during the coming year, leaving the entire debt of the state in the form of certificates of indebtedness to these funds, and forming an irreducible debt, upon which only the annual interest will be required, demanding no provision for the payment of the principal.

The following is a statement of the receipts and disbursements during the last fiscal year of the Taxes due from National Banks are not included in the estimate, since this department has no means of information as to the probability of such being paid.

ESTIMATE FOR 1870.

Provision for the current expenses of the state government and state institutions for 1870, must be made by the present Legislature, since the taxes levied will not reach the treasury until February of that year. According to the foregoing estimates, there will be little or no balance in the general fund of the treasury on the first day of January, 1870, so that the whole amount necessary to carry on the government must be provided. My estimates are as follows, for current expenses:

EXPENDITURES.

Salaries and permanent appropriations	$71,200 00

State prison and charitable institutions	205,000 00

Total		$318,300 00
To be raised by state tax		$339,900 00

Any and all appropriations by the Legislature additional to those included in the above estimates must be added to the estimated amount of State Tax. It is respectfully suggested that a State Tax of $350,000 be levied at the commencement of the session, if the above estimates be found satisfactory, and that the provisions of section 2 of chapter 12, of the General Laws of 1868, be adopted so far as applicable to additional appropriations. This will facilitate legislative action and afford reasonable security for the payment of all liabilities against the State.

STATE OF WISCONSIN.—Dane County:

Thomas S. Allen, being duly sworn, says that the foregoing list contains the names of all the clerks employed in the office of Secretary of State during the year ending September 30, 1868, as he verily belives; that the amount was actually paid to each clerk as stated, and that the same was necessarily expended to enable him to properly discharge the duties of the office of Secretary of State.

THOS. S. ALLEN, Secretary of State.

Sworn and subscribed before me this 10th day of October, 1868.

RICHARD LESTER, Notary Public,
Dane County, Wisconsin.

STATE TAX.

The State Tax levied for the year 1868, under the provisions of chapter 112, of the General Laws of 1868, amounts to the sum of $544,389.12, and was apportioned to the several counties upon the valuation fixed by the State Board of Assessment. The rate per cent. is 2 21-100 mills upon the dollar of such valuation. In addition to the revenue tax thus provided, there is an additional amount due the State Reform School for care of inmates, of $4,273.00. The apportionment to the several counties will be seen by reference to appendix "B."

The State Tax levied for the last three years, and the estimated tax for 1869 are shown in the following table, with the assessed valuation of the State, for each year:

	Valuation.	State tax.	Rate per cent.
For 1866.....	$162,320,153	$312,816 34	1 925-1000 mills
1867.....	196,851,161	649,958 86	3⅓.....do..
1868.....	244,440,774	544,389 12	2 21-100 ..do..
1869, (estimated)	350,000,000	350,000 00	1.....do..

Through an error in the estimate of the Finance Committee, the State Tax of 1866 was too low by the sum of about $200,000, which caused a deficiency, that was made up by the tax of 1867 and 1868. Large and unexpected appropriations to several of the State institutions, for buildings, have added to the tax for the last two years. Most of these buildings are now completed, and it is reasonable to suppose that for some time to come, no such draft will be made upon the treasury.

Since 1860, there has been expended, as near as can be estimated, for the erection of the public buildings belonging to the State the sum of $1,200,000. Unless it is considered necessary to erect a new class of buildings, the estimate for this purpose will, in future, be very little, and only to supply the necessary repairs.

STATE UNIVERSITY.

As Secretary ex-officio of the Regents of the State University, my report will be included in the annual report of that body. A statement of its funds will be found in detail in the appendix.

PUBLICATION OF LAWS.

In compliance with the provisions of Chapter 131 of the General Laws of 1868, copy of all private and local laws of a general interest, was furnished to the publishers of newspapers in the county or locality to which such laws related, immediately after their publication in the state paper. Most of these laws were city and village charters and amendments to the same. Owing to the unusually large number of this class of laws, the expense somewhat exceeded the estimates, amounting to the sum of $2,359.33. That it was money well and profitably expended, there can be little doubt.

The cost of publishing the general laws under the law raising the price to sixty dollars, amounts to the sum of $6,810, they having been published in one hundred and eleven different newspapers of the state. As a general rule, they were promptly and correctly published, thus placing them before the people very soon after their passage.

CHAPTER 158, GENERAL LAWS 1868.

This chapter, relating to the filing of chattel mortgages with the Registers of Deeds of each county, was duly deposited in this office by the Governor, having been approved and signed by the President of the Senate and Speaker of the Assembly, as provided in the case of all laws. It was immediately published in the state paper with other general laws. Some time after the adjournment of the Legislature, my attention was called to the fact, that the bill was erroneously enrolled, it having failed to pass the Senate. Upon an examination of the Senate Journal, this was found to be the case. It not being within my province to determine upon the validity of laws, the law was included in the volume of general laws, thus leaving the question of its validity or non-validity to be determined by the proper authorities. The attention of the Legislature is called to the facts in the case, that such action may be taken as is deemed advisable.

SIMMONS' DIGEST.

In accordance with chapter 137 of the General laws of 1868, I have purchased from James Simmons, Esq., of Walworth county, two hundred and fifty copies of "said Simmons' Digest of Wisconsin Reports," and have distributed them as provided by law. Those remaining on hand have been deposited in the State Library, subject to the same rules as govern the distribution of the Supreme Court Reports.

INVESTMENT OF TRUST FUNDS.

Until all the lands belonging to the School, University, Normal School and Agricultural College funds, shall have been sold, and the amounts due on said lands and on loans shall have been paid into the state treasury, a large sum of money will annually accrue to the credit of the several trust funds, subject to investment in the manner provided by law. Under the provisions of the Revised Statutes, all such moneys were to be loaned to individuals upon real estate security. These provisions have never yet been repealed, although they have been temporarily suspended or modified by subsequent legislation. Chapter 89 of the laws of 1862, and chapter 100 of the laws of 1863, authorized and directed the Commissioners of School and University lands to "invest the principal of the school fund, in preference to all other loans and investments, in the bonds of the state of Wisconsin," at an annual interest of seven per cent. per annum. Chapter 25 of the laws of 1866, provided for the cancellation of the bonds which had been purchased by the trust funds and for the issue of certificates of indebtedness in lieu of the same. Under these several laws the bonds of the state have all been taken up and canceled, with the exception of $167,800. This amount of bonds will undoubtedly be purchased and canceled within the next two years, if not during the next year. Two methods of investment will then be left open under the law, either of which may be adopted by the Commissioners of School and University lands, at their discretion. In anticipation of the final purchase and cancellation of the outstanding bonds of the state, chapter 111 of the laws of 1868 was passed, "authorizing" said Commissioners to invest the principal of the several trust funds in "bonds of the United States, and in the bonds of the New England States, New York and Ohio."

It will be borne in mind that the latter means of investment is not mandatory on the commissioners, but simply invests them with discretionary power. Now the provisions of the revised statutes, to wit: section 81 of chapter 28, not having been repealed, I see no reason why the commissioners may not, if they choose, again fall back upon the old system of loaning out the funds to individuals; since all the laws requiring their investment in the bonds of the state will have lost all their force by the purchase and cancellation of said bonds. The provisions of chapter 111 of the laws of 1868, were intended to meet this question; and the method of investment therein authorized, would be far preferable to the old system, which has heretofore entailed so much loss and expense upon the several funds.

But, still, there seem to be some objections to the latter of these systems, which were not anticipated, or which, perhaps, were not taken into consideration. In the first place, the people of this state have no surplus money to loan to citizens of other states, or to eastern holders of state and government bonds. All the money and capital arising from the sale of lands in charge of the state, can find ample sources of use and investment at home. Were this system finally adopted, we should be sending annually out of the state, from one hundred to two hundred thousand dollars to purchase bonds—not at their face, but at their par value, which now varies from five to seven per cent. premium. Again, no bonds are in circulation which draw a higher rate of interest than six per cent; and it is highly probable that the rate on government bonds will soon be reduced to from four to four and a half per cent. It is well known that money is in demand in this state at from seven to ten per cent. So that under this system we should lose, not only from one to three per cent. in interest, but also the expense of exchange between here and New York. Now, it having been the settled policy of the state so far, to protect the funds confided to its care for educational purposes, and to secure as large an income as possible from their investment, the question arises as to whether it would be wise to reverse this policy. Is there not some plan by the adoption of which these several funds may be made secure, and an annual interest of seven per cent be perpetually guarranteed to them, beyond the possibility of failure? If so, the magnitude of the trust accepted by the state and the important results depending upon its proper management, imperatively demand its adoption.

The funds to be invested, as is well known, arise from the sale of lands, payment of balance due on previous sales, and amounts due on loans from these several funds. So fast as moneys come into the treasury from these sources, means of investment must be found. That these amounts will be large in the future, as they have been in the past, the following statements will show:

	Value of lands unsold.	Am't due on previous sales.	Am't due on loans.
School fund	$576,826	$520,558	$550,229
University fund	31,885	68,341	22,892
Normal school fund	1,248,571	76,418	100,376
Agricultural college fund	274,671	14,488	6,000
Total	$2,131,953	$679,805	$679,497

The whole amount, then, as appears from the above table, which will be subject to investment within the next four years, will be as follows:

Principal of	School Fund	$1,647,613 00
	University Fund	123,118 00
	Normal School Fund	1,425,365 00
	Agricultural College Fund	295,159 00
Total		$3,491,255 00

In what manner shall this large amount be invested? The methods authorized under existing laws have been stated above, viz: 1st. In bonds of the state; 2d. In bonds of the United States and of several other states; 3d. On real estate security to individuals. The objections to the first two methods have already been stated, and experience has demonstrated that the last does not afford sufficient security; that it involves expense in clerk hire, books and blanks, and that it has been in the past, as it will be in the future, if adopted again, an instrument of political persuasion if not of political corruption. A few favored individuals would undoubtedly reap its benefits, but the great mass of the people, for whose use these funds were created, would reap only its evils and losses. The people do not ask a return to this system ; but do desire an investment which shall insure a regular and permanent income.

The only plan which seems to embrace all the desired conditions of safety, of economy in management, of unchangeable value and of prompt payment of interest, is the continuance of the plan now in practice; that is, to make the state its own banker, and all the people of the state and all the property of the state, security for these funds. Instead of loaning them to a few individuals, upon small individual security, let them be loaned to the whole people, upon the plighted honor of the state, secured by constitutional provision. Since the constitution of this state prohibits the incurring of an indebtedness exceeding one hundred thousand dollars, let an amendment be adopted and submitted to the people, similar to the following :

AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION.

Section 11 of article 8 of the constitution of this state, is hereby adopted, to read as follows :

" The principal of the school fund, of the university fund, of the normal school fund and of the agricultural college fund, shall hereafter be invested in the following manner, to wit : at the end of each financial quarter the commissioners of school and university lands shall ascertain the amount of principal of each of said funds remaining in the treasury subject to investment, and shall cause certificates of indebtedness to be executed in duplicate for the amount of said funds, which certificates shall bear interest at the rate of seven per cent. per annum, payable on the 31st day of May, in each year, each of which certificates shall be made payable to the proper fund, and shall, by the terms thereof, be made not negotiable or transferable for any purpose whatever. Said certificates shall be signed by the governor, the secretary of state and the state treasurer. Immediately upon the issue of the said certificates, a duplicate of each shall be deposited with the state treasurer, and the original with the secretary of state, and thereupon the the several amounts for which said certificates were issued, shall be transferred to the general fund of the treasury."

The amendment might, if deemed advisable, be of this form:

"The Legislature of this State is hereby authorized and empowered, to cause to be issued certificates of indebtedness to the several Trust Funds in the treasury, for the amount of such funds on hand at any time subject to investment, and to transfer said funds to the General Fund of the State: provided, that an interest of seven per cent. on the same be provided, payable annually, to the income of said funds."

Among the advantages claimed for this system, are the following:

1st. Security and permanency of investment.—As compared with loans to individuals, there will be no loss of title papers, or through poor security and defective title papers. As compared with investment in State and Government bonds, there could be no loss; while these bonds, purchased at market rates, at perhaps five to ten per cent. premium, would, at maturity, call only for their face, throwing upon our funds the entire loss of the premium paid. Moreover, these bonds are liable to be called in at any time, and exchanges could seldom be made without loss and expense.

2d. Economy of management.—This needs no elucidation, since there can be no expense excepting the bare cost of the paper and printing of the blanks to be used.

3d. It secures a higher rate of interest to the educational funds.—This is clear, since, as before stated, no bonds in market bear more than six per cent. interest.

4th. It retains our capital at home.—The purchase of foreign bonds would drain this state of from one to two hundred thousand dollars per year, upon which we should receive back only from four to six per cent.

5th. It relieves the people from taxation.—For, whatever amount is invested in certificates of indebtedness, is at once placed to the credit of the General Fund. As a matter of course, the State tax for that year would be less by that amount, except so much as is paid as interest on the amount. Were this amount for one year $100,000, the interest would be $7,000, leaving in the treasury $93,000, reducing the State tax by that amount. Thus all the money paid into the treasury for lands, goes back to the people through the various channels by which our circulation is maintained, and thus the whole people, instead of a part, have the benefit of a loan at seven per cent. interest, equally distributing the burdens and the benefits of this system.

6th. No loss through neglect or fraud.—The certificates of indebtedness being in duplicate and not negotiable, offer no inducement to abstraction or alteration. Whereas bonds, amounting to perhaps millions of dollars, might appeal strongly to the cupidity of a corrupt public officer. This has happened in other portions of the country, and prudence would seem to demand that occasion for such temptation may be avoided.

It is raised by some as an objection to the plan proposed, that we shall have no School Fund or any other fund—that we shall have only promises without any intention to pay. The same objection lies to every kind of investment. The bonds of the Government or of any State are only promises to pay. The same is true of loans to individuals. Unless the fund consists entirely of money, locked up in the vaults of the treasury, we can have nothing but promises to pay. Every thing depends then on the security. That a State certificate of indebtedness is as good as a State bond, no one can doubt, and the objection is captious rather than legitimate or honest.

But I do not deem it necessary to argue the question further; but lest it may be supposed that the course proposed is without precedent, I will simply state that a plan somewhat similar has been in practice for some time in Ohio. Believing some legislation to be necessary, the above suggestions are respectfully submitted.

STATE PRINTING.

The existing contract for state printing being about to expire on the 31st day of December 1868, the commissioners authorized by law, advertised for proposals for doing such printing for the term of two years from the first day of January 1869. The following proposals were received and opened on the 5th day of August, last past.

C. Latham Sholes, Milwaukee.....at 27 per cent. discount.
Cantwell, Robinson & Cantwell, Madison.....at 39 per cent. discount.
A. E. Gordon, Madison.....at 46 per cent. discount.
Atwood & Rublee, Madison.....at 47 per cent. discount

The bid of Atwood & Rublee, being the lowest and best bid was accepted, and a contract entered into with them for doing the state printing for the term of two years from the first day of January 1869, at the uniform rate of forty-seven per cent. discount from the maximum prices established by law.

STATE CAPITOL.

In accordance with the provisions of Chapter 93, General Laws of 1868, advertisements for proposals were duly published, for the completion of the rotunda and dome of the State Capitol.

The following proposals were received:

A. J. Langworthy, Milwaukee	$97,000 00
F. Letz & Son, Chicago, for iron work only	85,000 00
James Kirtland & Co., New York, for iron work only	123,740 00
for the work complete	128,740 00
William Goodnow, Milwaukee	116,000 00
C. S. Rankin & Co, Cincinnati	90,000 00
Wm. Pollard, Nelson & Co., painting and glazing	4,985 00
W. P. Towers.....do.....do	5,776 00
Thomas Regan, gas pipes and fitting	600 00

The Building Commissioners accepted the proposal of C. S. Rankin & Co., of Cincinnati, and entered into contract with the firm for the completion of the work on or before the first day of December, 1869, in the sum of ninety thousand dollars.

When the work under this contract is completed and paid for, the State Capitol will have cost the sum of $528,315.60.

DESERTERS FROM MILITARY SERVICE.

It is respectfully recommended that sections 2 and 3 of chapter 67, of the General Laws of 1867, be repealed. These sections require an annual publication and distribution of the large volume containing a list of deserters from the draft and from the military service of the United States. Some 7,000 copies have already been furnished the town officers of this state, which would seem all that are necessary in order to protect the ballot box and to insure obedience to the law in regard to this class of our population.

RAILROADS.

Reports have been received from all the Railroad Companies transacting business in this state, for the year 1867. These reports, together with an abstract of their several items, will be found in the appendix, marked "D." New and improved forms were issued from this department, and the reports will be found more satisfactory than heretofore.

The following summary of several of the principal items will be found interesting:

Whole number of miles operated by all the companies	2,032.37
Number of miles operated in this state	1,012.96
Total cost of roads, including equipment	$73,161,532 80
Gross receipts, from all sources, in 1867	17,483,475 76
Gross receipts in Wisconsin	7,521,810 36
Gross expenditures for all purposes	14,866,196 44
Amount of taxes paid state of Wisconsin	225,784 51
Number of passengers transported	2,489,448
Number of persons killed	29
Number of persons injured	23

COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETIES.

Twenty-eight agricultural societies made their annual reports in accordance with law, and received each one hundred dollars from the state treasury. An abstract of their reports will be found in the appendix to this report, marked "E."

The receipts and and expenditures of the several societies, as compared with the previous year, were as follows:

	1866	1867
From membership, entries, &c	$20,325 69	$28,378 15
Paid for premiums and expenses	17,342 00	25,344 45
Excess of receipts over expenditures	2,833 69	3,033 70

STATISTICS OF MARRIAGES.

At the date of my last report, the registers of but nineteen counties had made reports to this office, as required by law, of the marriages registered in their respective offices. Thirty-three returns have been received during the last year, showing an aggregate of 6,866 marriages. Knowing that the records of many counties are very incomplete I have so far only called repeated attention to the provisions of the law, but in future shall consider it my duty to enforce its penalties against those officers who wilfully neglect to perform their duties under it.

It is respectfully suggested that the law be so amended as to require an annual instead of a semi-annual report from the Register of Deeds, and that the index now required be dispensed with, since they must be re-indexed in this office. This will save both labor, expense and books, and will promote more promptitude in making returns.

An abstract of the returns made for the last year will be found in appendix, marked "F."

INSURANCE COMPANIES.

Since my last annual report the following Life Insurance Companies have been admitted to transact business in this state, to-wit:

Asbury, New York City.
Guardian Mutual, New York City.
Hartford Life and Annuity, Hartford, Ct.
National, Washington, D. C.
Metropolitan, New York City, formerly "National Travelers"—an accident company.

The following Fire Insurance Companies have also, on complying with the laws, been admitted to transact business within the last year, to-wit:

Ætna, New York City.
American Exchange Fire, New York City.
Astor Fire, New York City.
Excelsior Fire, New York City.

Commercial Mutual, Cleveland, Ohio.
Detroit Fire & Marine, Detroit, Michigan.
Pacific, San Francisco, California.
Republic, Chicago, Ill.
United States Fire & Marine, Baltimore, Maryland.
North British & Mercantile, London and Edinburgh.
Queen Fire, Liverpool and London.

The following named companies have retired from the state, to-wit:

Metropolitan Fire, New York City.
Resolute Fire, New York City.

The following statement shows the number of companies now transacting the business of insurance in this state at the date of this report as compared with the last three years:

	1866.	1867.	1868.
Life insurance companies of Wisconsin	1	1	1
other states	15	30	35
Fire & marine insur'ce co's of Wisconsin	8	8	9
other states	51	57	66
Casualty insurance comp. of Wisconsin	...	1	....
other states	5	5	5
Live stock insurance co's of ....do	...	2	2
Total	80	104	118

The business of these several companies will appear from abstracts and statements compiled from their reports, which will be found in the appendix. See abstracts marked "N." "O." "P." &c.

The amount paid into the treasury by the several companies in lieu of taxes is as follows:

Fiscal year ending September 30,	1866	$34,729 45
	1867	52,184 05
	1868	65,737 63
Increase during last year		$13,553 58

Under the laws of this State, all companies transacting the business of Insurance, are required to file their annual statements on or before the first Monday in February of each year. If these reports are of any value to the public, they should be published as soon as practicable after their reception, in proper form for distribution.

It is respectfully suggested that the Secretary of State be authorized to prepare abstracts of both the reports of insurance and railroad companies, and cause them to be printed as early as the first day of April in each year. Under the present system, they are more than a year old before they can be laid before either the peoor the legislature. Nothing will be added to the expense, since they can then very properly be omitted from the annual report of the Secretary of State, as made to the Governor.

ASSESSMENT OF PROPERTY.

The tabular statement found in the appendix, marked "B," shows the valuation of property in each county, as established by the state board of assessors for the year 1868, as also the amount of tax apportioned to each county under the laws in force. The aggregate valuation, as compared with last year, is as follows:

Valuation, as equalized for 1867	$196,851,160 97
Valuation, as established for 1868	244,440,774 00
Increase in valuation	$47,589,613 03

That the valuation, as fixed by the state board, does not approach the real valuation of all the property in the state, is evident from the actual assessment of property in many of the counties of the state for the present year. I have made efforts to ascertain the results of the assessment law passed last winter, and all the facts I have been able to ascertain are embodied in the statement marked "C," of the appendix. The counties not included in said statement have failed to make any return, and as the matter was purely voluntary, no fault can be found.

To substantiate the fact that the valuation fixed by the state board was far below the actual valuation, it is only necessary to refer to several of the returns included in appendix "C." It appears that the assessment of Ashland, Bayfield and Outagamie counties is from 21 to 28 per cent. more than the value fixed by the state board; that the assessment of Jefferson, Milwaukee, Ozaukee, Rock, Sauk, Trempealeau, Walworth, Washington, Waukesha and Wanshara counties, varies from 44 per cent. to 71 per cent. higher than the amount fixed by the state board, while that of Marquette county is 121 per cent. higher. Assuming the same ratio of increase through all the counties of the state, reported and not reported, and the aggregate valuation of the state should not be less than fifty per cent. higher than the aggregate valuation as fixed by the state board, which was $244,440,774. Adopting this as correct, and the aggregate valuation of the whole state should be not less than $366,661,161. Had this valuation been adopted, the state tax would have been less than 1 1-2 mills on the dollar, instead of 2 21-100 mills, as levied. The decrease in six counties is so small that it does not affect the general result as stated. Moreover, had all the towns and cities in Rock, Milwaukee, and other counties been reported, the percentage of increase would have been still higher.

In relation to the operation of the late assessment law, the returns and statistics are hardly full enough to enable any one to form a very clear idea. Judging from the files of correspondence in my office, I have no doubt that if the question of assessment could be entirely divorced from the question of subsequent taxation, and from its influence in the apportionment of valuation for the following year, it would operate much more uniformly than previous laws. But there is ample evidence that the same influences have governed the majority of assessors as formerly. It is perfectly understood that taxes must be apportioned according to some standard of valuation. And since the law provides for no standard, and for no means of ascertaining the valuation of the several counties and towns, it naturally follows in the minds of assessors, that the state and county boards will and must fall back on previous assessments, as a basis, as they did the present year. And it is for this reason that assessors and clerks of towns and counties have declined to to furnish more complete returns of the assessment for 1868.

While I do not persume to advise any change in the general principle upon which the present law is based, it will not be considered improper to suggest one or two points for the consideration of the legislature.

1st. As to exemptions—The 11th and 12th exemptions, as found in Chapter 130, Laws of 1868, provide for the exemption from taxation of all "wearing apparel, family portraits and libraries, kitchen furniture and growing crops;" and also for "six months' provisions and fuel provided by the head of a family to sustain its members for six months." Would it not be more equal to provide for the assessment of all the property described at its actual value, and then allow a uniform deduction of say three hundred or even five hundred dollars from the amount in the way of exemption? Under the present law, while in some cases the exemption would amount to from one two hundred dollars, in others it would amount to as many thousands.

2d. As to the State assessment.—With all due respect to the Senate, which constitutes the State Board, my impression is, that a board consisting of not more than one-third the number would work with more facility, correctness and impartiality. Local feelings, interests and prejudices are strong in all minds, and great minds are not an exception. The work, as all are aware, is now done by a committee, as a matter of necessity, not entirely devoid of the fear that opposition will be raised in some quarter, resulting in the total defeat of their recommendations, should strict justice be insisted upon.

Again, as to statistics. No provision is made for facts and statistics showing the valuations of the several counties, or their progress in wealth and population. If actual assessments are not to be taken as a basis of valuation, common sense requires that some other means be provided. The only plan which commends itself to my judgment is the following: That the State Board of Assessors meet only once in three years; that previous to each meeting, statistics of population, of manufactures, of improved and unimproved lands, of leading products of the soil, of the forests and the mines, of live stock, of banks and corporations, should be carefully taken by persons appointed for that purpose. In addition to these, let the actual assessment of property of each year be returned, showing the number and value of the different varieties of live stock assessed, the valuation of moneys, bonds, mortgages and other property admitting of comparison, and also the amount of county, town and other taxes levied in each year. By a comparison of all these items, an intelligent board, consisting of a limited number of members, would be able to arrive near a correct conclusion of the actual and relative value of the property of the state.

Again, it is suggested that section 6 of chapter 130, laws of 1868 be amended, by providing that the valuation established, and not the state tax, be certified to the several counties at the time specified; since this renders a new apportionment of certain taxes necessary in November following. The same provision should also apply to county boards of assessments as to county and state tax, and for the reason that in the month of May it is too early to determine the amount of county tax necessary to be raised.

3d. As to the assessment of personal property.—The experience of the last year confirms my impressions as to the propriety of furnishing blanks for the listing of personal property. In those counties which have used these blanks for the assessment of 1868, is shown the largest increase of personal property. And this has been voluntary instead of compulsory. The defect in the old form of blanks was, that they did not specify a sufficient number of items to insure a complete schedule of property. Under the new form issued from this office in 1867, there was a manifest improvement, and it is not doubted that a continuance of the practice, with an improved form, would have shown still more. If personal property is omitted or undervalued, it is the fault of the assessor and not of the blanks. An affidavit should be required, as to the items of property, but it should still rest with the assessor to fix his own valuation, according to such information as he can obtain from any other source. A full report of all the items in the schedule, with the assessed valuation of each, should be returned through the clerk of the Board of each county to this office, for the use of the State Boards of Assessment.

4th. The assessment law of last session is incomplete, in that it leaves in doubt how much of previous laws remains in force. It would be very difficult, if not impossible, for even a good lawyer to determine in many cases, whether certain provisions not included in that law are operative or not, they not being repealed unless "conflicting," although they may be, in some respects, inconsistent with it. This is particularly the case in the provisions relating to merchants' stock, and to the listing of property. It would seem good policy to repeal all laws, by title and chapter, not intended to be in force, and to codify in one law all the provisions relating to the assessment of property.

The above are thrown out as suggestions, the details of which can better be explained to the proper committee than in the form of a report.

In conclusion, I have only to say that it will be my pleasure to furnish any additional information at my disposal, and that the records of this office are always open to the inspection of those desirous of investigation.

I have the honor to be, respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

THOS. S. ALLEN,
Secretary of State.
